ALLEGED "PEEPER" IS DISCHARGED

Patrolman North arrested Irving Goodwin at 11 o'clock last night and took him to the Third precinct station. Goodwin was charged with breach of the peace in default of any better charge to make. Goodwin was acting strangely entering yards of residences on Maplewood avenue and peeping under the curtains. A key of peculiar design was found on Goodwin and it was surmised that he might be the mysterious key worker who had entered many residences in this city recently and made off with valuable jewelry and money. Investigation, however, disclosed that the key was legitimate, and fitted the house where Goodwin boarded at Atlantic street and Park avenue. The charge of peeping might be attributed to any number of causes and he was discharged without a trial this morning.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS ST. JOHN

Miss Mary E. St. John, died suddenly at the home of her brother, Alexander H. St. John, on King street, Stratford, yesterday morning, after a long illness. Miss St. John was born in New Canaan and came to Stratford with her parents about 50 years ago. For 18 years she conducted a boarding house on West avenue in this city. Many people prominent in society and in the business world have made their home at her house and in this manner she made many firm and lasting friends. Three months ago she was obliged by ill health to give up the boarding house and went to Stratford to live with her brother at whose house she died. Her demise was not unexpected although she was not able to leave the house for several weeks. Yesterday morning she left her room at six o'clock but at 7 she was discovered unconscious on her bed by Mrs. A. H. St. John. Dr. Cogswell was called and he found that death had been caused by heart disease. She was dead when discovered. The deceased was a member of Christ church in this city. Besides her brother, A. H. St. John, one sister, Mrs. Charles W. Blakeslee of King street, Stratford, survives.

NEWS ABOUT TOWN

The police were active yesterday, and scoured the city looking for crap shooters and violators of the Sunday liquor law. No arrests were made.

The report, which was industriously circulated yesterday, that Captain Peter Hall was dead caused his friends much concern. The officer is suffering from an attack of the grip, but is in no real danger.

Mary Orlin, 187 Spruce street, alarmed her family yesterday, when she was attacked by hemorrhages. She was taken to the Bridgeport hospital. She will recover.

Joseph Coslick, 116 Johnson street, was injured while attempting to alight from a moving trolley car on Park avenue, last night. He was cut and bruised about the face and was taken to Clappett's drug store, Park and South avenues, where his injuries were dressed by Dr. E. B. Ives.

VICE PRESIDENT'S WIFE BOOMS INSURGENT CANDIDATE

(Special from United Press.)
Washington, April 19.—Vice-President and Mrs. Sherman are being regarded as the biggest social factor in the political strife that is being waged for the Presidency-General of the Daughters of American Revolution when it was announced that they would give a luncheon this evening in honor of Mrs. William Cummings Story, of New York, Vice-President of the organization. Mrs. Story has been the guest of honor at a function given by the Vice-President and Mrs. Sherman.

All Washington society is discussing this latest move as it is expected to have an important bearing on the candidacy of Mrs. Story and Mrs. Matheew T. Scott of Illinois, the administration candidate for the treasury of the order. Nearly five thousand Daughters are here for the annual Congress, the opening session of which began at 11 o'clock this morning.

After the call to order by Mrs. McLean, President-General of the Daughters, Vice-President Sherman took the stand and addressed the Daughters. Mrs. Stockbridge replied to Mrs. McLean's address and the marine band furnished patriotic music. An ode by Ella Wheeler Wilcox and the "Star Spangled Banner" by George Edward Smith, Mayor of Frederick, Md., closed the exercises.

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Senator Daniel and former Governor Edwin Warfield of Maryland, gave addresses. To-night Mrs. McLean and her supporters will give a reception and the affairs of the visiting delegates will again swing around the vortex of politics.

JUDGE WILDER'S FIRST DAY IN COURT

A short slate greeted Deputy Judge Frank L. Wilder on his first appearance on the bench in the city court this morning. The newly appointed assistant clerk, John H. Gray was also present, his morning's familiarizing himself with his duties.

Fred Scheibel, charged with drunkenness was the first victim to come to the Judge Wilder. Scheibel has been in the city court many times on the same charge. Judge Wilder sent him to jail for 15 days.

Samuel Simon, who is charged with knocking out Andrew Kovovsk's teeth with a stone one night last week was opened but it was soon discovered that one of the principal witnesses, Mike Cokki, had not answered to his summons. Judge Wilder ordered a capias issued for the witness and the case was continued till to-morrow. After court adjourned Cokki appeared and was immediately arrested and placed in the dock.

Frank Dawson, who was arrested Saturday night on a charge of breach of the peace, assault and theft, on complaint of Lee Dewell, gave a $25 bond to appear this morning.

Those interested in the future welfare of Bridgeport should agree that the buildings to be erected at this time can be none too good, if we are to have a greater and better city. The building business gives great promise this year, and have not had it demonstrated to us that one building inspector is not sufficient to inspect all of the work as it should be looked after?

Do we want to go on until we have another building collapse or have another school building scandal? Is it right to have an inspector who should be held in abeyance by a small crowd of boss builders, who have political power, despite the fact that a very competent, competent, and a common council recommended the appointment of a mason inspector, after investigating the cause of the tumbling down of the school building?

Why should the mason inspector be appointed by the Board of Building Commissioners, when there are one or more competent masons in the city that body, whose work would have to be inspected by their own appointees? Let the appointment come from the common council, so that the inspector will be unhampered in his work.

Yours respectfully,
JAMES FITZPATRICK,
President of Bricklayers & Plasterers' Union No. 2.

FOUR MILLIONAIRE CATTLE MEN LYNCHED TODAY

(Special from United Press.)
Shawnee, Okla., April 19.—At 2 o'clock this morning a mob of 100 men lynched J. B. Miller, E. E. Brown, J. W. and E. A. Allen, millionaire cattlemen of Texas, held for the murder of a United States Marshal A. A. Bott, Feb. 27.

A deputy sheriff was attacked by the mob. The four men were held in the Pontotoc county jail. The mob formed about 2 this morning and went to the jail, south of Ada. At the jail the mob was met by officers who endeavored to prevent the lynching. The mob assaulted a deputy sheriff and then failing to find the keys, broke open the jail. The building is partially wrecked.

The mob took the men from the jail, led them to a barn back of the jail and hung them to the rafters. Then the mob dispersed and the four bodies were found this daylight. Ada is a town of 4,000 inhabitants, and is the county seat of Pontotoc county.

WALL STREET TO-DAY.

(Special from United Press.)
New York, April 19.—Decided strength was shown in the market at the opening. Union Pacific showed an advance of one point at the end of the first hour. Steel Common was in scant supply opening half higher and moving up 7-8 more. At the opening Smelting gained 7-8 and a number of other metals rose sharply. The Missouri Pacific and Kansas Pacific rose one point and nearly everything traded in made some advances.

M. T. V. decided favorable change in weather conditions had as much influence on price movements in the stock market as anything else. The outlook for crops is not so bad as was reported. London bought 25,000 shares. There was a good deal of buying back of stocks so that the low levels a few days ago. The upward movement that developed at the start continued all through the first hour with a majority of stocks in that period making advances of from 1 to 1-2 points.

At the beginning of the second hour talk of the commodities decision caused some selling of Reading which reacted generally. Government bonds unchanged; other bonds strong.

Noon.—After the first hour the market generally ruled firm for the rest of the forenoon with frequent upturns but these additional gains were limited in nearly all cases to fractions. Just afternoon the coal stocks became strong and increased strength was shown in the leading railroads.

NEWTOWN.

The Ladies' Missionary Society of the Congregational church announce their "mite bag" meeting to be held Tuesday afternoon, April 20, at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Miss S. J. Scudder. Miss F. E. Jenkins who is connected with the work in the South will address the meeting. It is hoped there will be a large gathering. Those who cannot attend are requested to send in their mite bags at once.

An apron and necktie sociable is being planned by the ladies of the church, to be given at St. Mary's hall Saturday evening, April 24.

John McNamara of Danbury, has been the guest of his aunt, Mrs. Thomas Carey.

Miss Hettie Way of Brooklyn, is the guest of Mrs. Wm. A. Leonard.

Miss Lulu Roberts and her mother returned Saturday from a week's visit at Ludlow, Mass.

Mrs. C. H. Bloom has returned from a visit to Brooklyn.

Congregational Notes.—Rev. Alexander Steele took his text from Matt. 15:28; subject, "Faith." The Men's Federation will meet Monday night, April 26. Prayer meeting Thursday evening. Christian Endeavor was led by Mrs. Youngs, the subject being "Why We Observe the Lord's Day."

AN APPEAL FOR PUBLIC SENTIMENT

Aid Appointment of Competent Mason as Assistant Building Inspector.

Reason Advanced Why Said Appointee Should be Named by Common Council.

The following communication is self-explanatory:

Editor of the Farmer—Sir:
In behalf of several hundred skilled workmen, we desire to ask through the columns of your newspaper for the support of the general public in the securing of the City of Bridgeport the office of assistant building inspector, with the provision that the office shall be filled by a competent mason.

We take this means of asking the support of the people in order that we may say with all truth, that the agitation for the establishment of this office is not for the benefit of any class or any coterie of men, but for the general public good and welfare.

There is no politics being played by the men who have been asking for several months that the city have an officer who will see to it that the building laws are enforced, and that the people who invest money in buildings get what they are paying for; to say nothing of giving us properly built structures in which to live and work.

There has been a great deal of pulling and hauling to kill this measure by men who are the only ones who profit by the evasion of the laws, and the putting of cheap labor and materials into structures. No honest man need have any fear of inspection.

What is good for one is good for all. Those interested in the future welfare of Bridgeport should agree that the buildings to be erected at this time can be none too good, if we are to have a greater and better city.

The building business gives great promise this year, and have not had it demonstrated to us that one building inspector is not sufficient to inspect all of the work as it should be looked after?

Do we want to go on until we have another building collapse or have another school building scandal? Is it right to have an inspector who should be held in abeyance by a small crowd of boss builders, who have political power, despite the fact that a very competent, competent, and a common council recommended the appointment of a mason inspector, after investigating the cause of the tumbling down of the school building?

Why should the mason inspector be appointed by the Board of Building Commissioners, when there are one or more competent masons in the city that body, whose work would have to be inspected by their own appointees? Let the appointment come from the common council, so that the inspector will be unhampered in his work.

George Kopcssek Wanted

Relatives are seeking the whereabouts of George Kopcssek who is said to have lived in this city for 30 years. The information is wanted by a firm of New York attorneys but no intimation is given of what is wanted of the missing man. The name does not appear in the Bridgeport directory for several years past.

Driver of Wrecked De Detrich Not Known

A man who gave his name as Max E. Palmer of Bridgeport, wrecked his big De Detrich, 40 horse power car on Mill Hill in Norwalk Saturday morning. Automobiles in this city do not know a Max E. Palmer who owns a car and the directory does not give his name. The supposed Mr. Palmer told a reporter for a Norwalk paper that he was on his way to New York with two friends when the machine skidded on Mill Hill running him into a telegraph pole. Palmer was seriously injured. The other men in the car escaped injury. The car is the property of John H. Tyson of Riverside. It was completely wrecked.

TWO WERE KILLED; CONDUCTOR INJURED

(Special from United Press.)
Grand Rapids, Mich., April 19.—William Stoltz, engineer, and John Beaman, fireman, were killed and Conductor Stevenson was seriously injured when an east-bound Grand Trunk train ran into a washout near Fuller Station early today. All the trainmen lived at Durand, Mich.

How It Was Done.

"Oh," remarked the first fox hunter, "you should have seen Mr. Nuritch take that high hedge!"

"You surprise me," exclaimed the other. "I thought the horse he rode wasn't much of a jumper."

"Oh, the horse didn't take the hedge! Mr. Nuritch did it alone."—Philadelphia Press.

Defending the Waiter.

In a Parisian cafe an American ordered a hors d'oeuvre, sole, agneau pre-sale, artichoke salad, poche, Melba, and so on, and when the waiter brought him a bill of 30 francs he paid it like a man. After his change was brought he counted it and pushed a franc toward the waiter for a tip. But the man, pushing back the franc, said in gentle reproach:

"Pardon, monsieur, but that is the counterfeit franc."—Argonaut.

His Income.

"They say you get 250 marks a month. I can't believe it. Tell me how."

"I get 110 marks salary; then I don't pay my rent, 40 marks; that's 150 marks; I owe the milkman 30 marks, that's 180 marks; my butcher 40 marks, 220 marks; and every month I raise 30 marks out of my friends, making an income of 250 marks a month!"—Fliegende Blatter.

Drawing a Tooth.

An elephant had a raging toothache, the agony of which caused her to nearly destroy her caravan. She was thrown on her side and roped to stakes. Two men held a pair of ice tongs fast round the aching tooth, and a couple of dray horses attached to the tongs by a rope did the rest. The tooth was sixteen inches long by three inches across.

His Complaint.

Inkwriter—What became of that queer patient you were telling me about last spring? Dr. Price—Oh, he's got a complaint now that's giving me a great deal of trouble! Inkwriter—Indeed! What is it? Dr. Price—Why, a complaint about the amount of my bill.

Saving Time.

"You shouldn't treat your boy so harshly. You're breaking his spirit."

PARENTS FINED WHO KEPT CHILDREN HOME

(Special to the Farmer.)
Stratford, April 19.—No less than 14 cases of truancy have been brought to the notice of the Board of Education, and that body has determined to enforce the laws of the state regarding the attendance of children at the public schools. This morning, before Judge Peck, three cases were tried and in each instance the court imposed a fine with costs amounting to about $15 for each defendant.

Mr. Joseph E. Allard was charged with refusing to send his boy to school after having been notified to do so by the Board of Education. The youth is under 14 years of age and is in the 6th grade, and no certificate of absence can be granted permitting a child to be absent under these circumstances. Attorney Henry P. Milford appeared for Mr. Allard and Grand Juror Rhoades conducted the prosecution. Mr. Blakeman, the Secretary of the Board of Education was one of the witnesses as were also the Officer Platt, Supr. of Schools Andrews, Dr. Cogswell the President of the Board and others. It developed in the course of the trial that many pay has determined to enforce the laws of the state regarding truancy. They have large families; that they think their children learn nothing useful at school, and if one boy or girl is allowed to stay home, they will follow the example and refuse to send their children.

Mr. Andrews, the Superintendent, in addressing the court, said there is a great deal of irregular attendance in the schools of Stratford and that it increases with the influx of the foreign population. The schools are crowded and are not kept in accordance with the law, the town will not be able to draw its allotment of $4,000 of school money from the state. Mr. Allard complained that his boy learned nothing in school, and that he was taught to draw pictures, which considered a waste of time. A man named Tommaso was required to pay $15 for keeping his daughter, who is under 16 years of age, out of school, to work in a shop factory in Bridgeport. Mr. Tommaso said he had a family of children, and he did not kill any of them.

A man named Campagnie was also fined $15. He refused to send his children to school because he had to spend money for pencils and pads, and he thought these articles should be furnished free of charge. He said that the children of these parents must report to the teachers. If this is not done further prosecutions will be instituted. The town of Stratford has caused considerable excitement in town among the foreign population. It is thought there is a wide misapprehension of the law. The law regarding truancy cases will be acted upon later.

The Influence of the Farm.

The farm is the best security we have for our social well being, and whatever promotes interest there, whatever raises it in intelligence and scientific spirit, is one of the most comforting influences of our civilization. And so to have our young men imbued with the true agricultural spirit, to turn away from the adventures of the commercial life and the allurements of mere money making to the simple, productive, independent life on the farm, is one of the richest promises in our educational system. For there, is where it belongs—to the expanding mind force of the nation. The finest triumphs of the next fifty years, results that will go further than all other enterprise in blessing men, will be won on the farm. There is a science of soil culture, and the art that is to be based upon it will open wide the door to men of thought and refinement. The answer of the old artist that he wished his pen to write brains is akin to the experience in the farming of the future, which will mix brains with the soil.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

He Knew Them.

"What's up, Tommy?" said a good natured London coster, who was passing, to a small boy who was sobbing bitterly.

"Oh, me farden! Hiv'e lost me brite farden!" wailed the little lad, continuing his search.

"Ere, mates," said the man to some other standing near, "let's help the pore kid find 'is farden." And the company set to work.

In a few moments one of them picked up the missing coin.

"Ere y'are, Tommy," he said, "ere's yer farden."

Then, looking at it in the light of a street lamp, "W'y, it ain't a farden at all; it's a 'art quid."

"Garn!" said the boy as he snatched away the coin. "D'y'e think Hiv'e goin' to let yew blokes know Hiv'e was a 'art quid 'un? W'y, wun of yer would 'at 'ad 'is foot on it afore Hiv'd 'ad time ter turn rahnd."

And he vanished round the corner like a streak of lightning.—London Answers.

Hunting the Bird of Paradise.

Inside a queer, birdcage-like wicker contrivance built high up in a tree the Aru islander will watch patiently for days to get a shot at a bird of paradise, perhaps the loveliest of nature's creations. His food is supplied every morning by another native, who remains at the foot of the tree during the day to secure any bird which may fall, killed or stunned. Only the adult males, with long plumes, are sought after, for were not the case this beautiful species would long ago have become extinct. To secure living specimens the natives employ an arrow having three prongs at the end. These prongs are barbed on the inside, and the object is to shoot at the legs of the bird, which, when hit, flutters helplessly to the ground.—A. E. Pratt in Wide World Magazine.

Matter of Fact Lovemaking.

For downright prose Dr. Johnson's offer of hand and heart to his second wife would be hard to beat. "My dear woman," said Johnson, "I am a hard-working man and withal something of a philosopher. I am, as you know, very poor. I have always been a respectable myself, but I grieve to tell you that one of my uncles was hung." "I have less money than you, doctor," demurely answered the lady, "but I shall try to be philosophical too. None of my relatives have ever been hung, but I have several who ought to be." "Providence and philosophy have evidently mated us, my good woman," said the doctor as he pressed a chaste salute on the lady's brow.

Saving Time.

"You shouldn't treat your boy so harshly. You're breaking his spirit."

"Well, he'll probably get married some time, and he might as well have it broken now!"

The more violent the storm the sooner it is over.—Seneca.
